Clays and Clay Minerals

Volume 57 Number 4 August 2009

Contents

Trans-vacant and cis-vacant 2:1 layer silicates: structural features, identification, and occurrence
Victor A. Drits and Bella B. Zviagina

Terahertz time-domain spectroscopy of selected layered silicates
Marián Janek, Ignác Bugár, Dušán Lorenc, Vojtech Szocs, Dušan Velič, and Dušan Chorvát

The formation of layered double hydroxides on alumina surface in aqueous solutions containing divalent metal cations
František Kovanda, Petra Mašátová, Petra Novotná, and Květa Jirášová

Magnetic titanium-pillared clays (Ti-M-PILC): magnetic studies and Mössbauer spectroscopy
Cherifa Bachir, Yanhua Lan, Valeriu Mereacre, Annie K. Powell, Christian Bender Koch, and Peter G. Weidler

Natural rubber nanocomposites with organo-modified bentonite
Jana Hrachová, Peter Komadel, and Ivan Chodák

The effect of structural order on the nanotubes derived from kaolin-group minerals
Jakub Matusik, Adam Gawel, Elżbieta Bielańska, Władysław Osuch, and Krzysztof Bahranowski

High-resolution transmission electron microscopy study of Fe-Mn oxides in the hydrothermal sediments of the Red Sea Deeps system
Nurit Taitel-Goldman, Vladimir Ezersky, and Dimitry Mogilyanski

Mineralogical composition of shallow soils on basic and ultrabasic rocks of East Fennoscandia and of the Ural Mountains, Russia
S. N. Lessovaia and Yu. S. Polekhovsky

Cation exchange reactions of vermiculite with Cu-triethylenetetramine as affected by mechanical and chemical pretreatment
Annett Steudel, Peter G. Weidler, Rainer Schuhmann, and Katja Emmerich

Optimizing the mechanical strength of adobe bricks
A. Schicker and S. Gier

Adsorption of a C_{10}E_{3} non-ionic surfactant on a Ca-smectite
Regis Guegan, Mathieu Gautier, Jean-Michel Bary, and Fabrice Muller

Joe B. Dixon: 1991 Recipient of The Clay Minerals Society Distinguished Member Award
Douglas W. Ming
